

Southeast

Canadian Rockies Panorama West of Calgary

Northwest

†Mt. Rundle's summit is barely visible above the ridge in front

Elevations in metres above mean sea level

To convert to feet, multiply by 3.28

~ Unofficial name and approximate elevation

 Elevation taken by Gérard Lachapelle, unofficial*

but accurate to 1 m, using Trimble R10 GPS receiver

Photo montage and labelling by Ben Gadd from images and theodolite bearings taken 27 June 2016 from Muller Windsports on the hill above Cochrane, Alberta, instrument location 51° 11.646' N, 114° 26.809' W, elevation about 1330 m

Distance from Mt. Burke (leftmost peak, farthest to southeast) to Ghost Peak, farthest to northwest, is 138 km (86 miles). Distance from viewpoint to Mt. Bogart, near the centre, is 64 km (40 miles).

Copyright © 2016 by Ben Gadd

This version 29 Aug 2018